A paraprosookian is a sentence or statement with an unexpected ending. It means “against expectations” in Greek. Here are some great examples:

- ◆ Will glass coffins be a success? Remains to be seen.
- ◆ What’s the difference between a hippo and a zippo? One is really heavy and the other is a little lighter.
- ◆ Hear about the new restaurant called Karma. There’s no menu– you get what you deserve.
- ◆ I went to buy some camouflage trousers yesterday, but couldn’t find any.
- ◆ What do you call a bee that can’t make up its mind? A maybe.
- ◆ I tried to sue the airline for losing my luggage. I lost my case.
- ◆ Is it ignorance or apathy that’s destroying the world today? I don’t know and I don’t care.

- ◆ I wasn’t originally going to get a brain transplant, but then I changed my mind.
- ◆ Which country’s capital has the fastest-growing population? Ireland. Every day it’s Dublin.
- ◆ I saw an ad for burial plots, and I thought: “That’s the last thing I need!”.
- ◆ Need an ark? I Noah guy.
- ◆ You’re not completely useless, you can always serve as a bad example.
- ◆ I broke my finger last week. On the other hand, I’m okay.
- ◆ Don’t spell part backwards. It’s a trap.
- ◆ And the Lord said unto John, “Come forth and you will receive eternal life.” But John came fifth and he got hell.
- ◆ Did you hear about the guy who got hit in the head with a can of soda. He was lucky it was a soft drink.

- ◆ To the mathematician who thought of the idea of zero. Thanks for nothing!
- ◆ Son: “Dad, can you tell me what a solar eclipse is?”
Dad: “No sun.”
